BARRY PEPPER: Constantly pushing the boundary on what's expected, Barry Pepper has become one of the most sought-after talents in Hollywood. Having haunted his acting prowess in two Academy Award-winning movies, Saving Private Ryan and The Green Mile, Pepper hits theaters in coming months with three new releases: Seven Pounds, Prince of Kings, and Like Dandelion Dust.

INDEPENDENT SPIRIT: Pepper dominates the stage in this stylish black double-weave three-button blazer with matching trousers, accessorized with an elegant silk scarf—by Alex Carleton for Rogues Gallery.

ALEX CARLETON: When most fashion designers open their first stores, they seek out urban markets such as Los Angeles or New York. But Rogues Gallery designer Alex Carleton, keeping true to his roots, he opted out of the mainstream to open his first independent retail outpost in the "Old Port" district of Portland, Maine. Inspired by the rugged, picturesque conditions of a sailor's life, Carleton's clothes effortlessly blend outdoor style with high-end fabrics. In doing so, he creates fashions that, similar to Hennessy, have a strong sense of the past while boldly defying the modern age.

HENNESSY PRESENTS
THE INDEPENDENTS
 Talented and unpredictable, they resist paths others most frequently travel. Nonconformists by nature, Hennessy salutes their independent spirit.

Embodying Hennessy's timeless spirit, Barry Pepper's dramatic style is mirrored by his apparel, created by designer Alex Carleton for Rogues Gallery.
