A collection of Bobbi Brown makeup products is displayed on a reflective white surface. The products include several open compacts: a large bronzer compact at the top, a blush compact with four shades in the middle right, a smaller eyeshadow compact at the bottom left, and another blush compact at the bottom right. Two bottles of foundation are also present; one is upright with its cap on, and the other is lying on its side with the cap removed, showing the product inside. A tube of red lipstick lies horizontally in the foreground. The Bobbi Brown logo is visible on the packaging of the products.

SOLUTION
All creams are not created equal. The oil-absorbing ingredi-

Crease Proof Eye Shadow (SE drug-extend wear and really do keep color

MULTITASKING MAKEUP BRUSH

PROBLEM: A pile of makeup brushes, all needing to be cleaned.

SOLUTION: Save space and time with Becca's The One Perfecting Brush ($48; sephora.com), which can be used to apply blush or bronzer, stipple on foundation or blend highlighter. The goat-hair bristles are antimicrobial—and they're adept at depositing product, so they stay surprisingly clean, enabling you to move from task to task without washing in between.

A LITTLE goes a long way: One drop of color per cheek will perk up your complexion.

BLUSH THAT WON'T FUDGE

PROBLEM: Cream blushes look soft and dewy, but they disappear after an hour or two.

SOLUTION: Like Maestro Fusion Foundation, the brand's breakthrough face makeup, Giorgio Armani Maestro Liquid Fusion Blush ($52; saks.com) delivers pigment-packed color suspended in timed-release oils that evaporate over the course of the day to ensure a long-lasting, natural-looking flush. »

8 steps to a flawless face

It's a month before the wedding, and your skin's not exactly aglow? Don't fret. This speed guide will get you there fast.

creams

To choose a formula, keep your skin type in mind, says Andrea Fairweather, a makeup artist in Los Angeles. If it's dry, go with a hydrating cream (like the ones shown here). If it's oily, pick a powder (see following page). Gels and stains (page 92) are long-lasting options that can work for anybody.

Face Stockholm Creme Blush in Paris (2) and Stockholm (3), $25 each, facestockholm.com.

Urban Decay AfterGlow Glide-On Cheek Tint in Fetish (6), $24, urbandecay.com.

Clinique Bluewater Cream Stick in Peachy Blush (7), Glow Blush (8), and Romy Blush (9), $19 each, clinique.com.

Smashbox Cream Cheek Tint in In Lights (1), $29, smashbox.com. At three shades in compact are shown.

Bodyography Creme Blush in Dahlia (4) and Navajo Gold (5), $17 each, bodyography.com.

the guide BEAUTY

powders

Powders absorb excess oil and won't slide off the skin, so they can be layered over other formulas to extend their wear. But powders may also creep into—and exaggerate the look of—wrinkles, so you might want to smooth on a primer first.

Bloom Powder Blush in Euphoria (2), $24, sephora.com.

Laura Geller Blush-Righten in Pink Buttercream (3), $31, laurageller.com.

DuWop Blushbooster in Watermelon (5), $22, shop.duwop.com.

TIP 1 Dab foundation on your lips before applying lipstick to give your pout color staying power.

MACY'S SKINCARE SPECIALISTS

Get some face time with our Skincare Specialists. Let them show you the products and tricks you need to know to achieve a flawless look (psst... it's easy!). Stop by any beauty counter, any time.

TIP 3 Don't pump liquid foundation directly on your face; use a brush or sponge to apply it for a more even look.

TIP 2 One of the best times to apply moisturizer is at night. It's a prime time for blood flow to the skin, which enhances absorption.

Finally, at night. Prevent }

Skin Damage

If your skin tone is starting to look dull or uneven—or your complexion is taking off all those summer spots baking in the sun), apply a proven antioxidant treatment each night to fend off free-radical damage, even on taut, and improve texture. Two antioxidants that have impressive science behind them—according to David J. Goldberg, M.D., director of Skin Laser & Surgery Specialists in New York and New Jersey, include idebenone, which is found in (1) PRENACTIN-ACTI-ACTIVE NIGHT CARE, $125, dialanah-skin.com, and coenzyme Q10, from you guessed it, the coffee giant, which is used in (2) VITAMIN E SERUM CREAM, $95, dermstore.com.

Treat Lines

There are three keys to keeping skin smooth for the long haul: Sun protection is so necessary each and every day, as are antioxidants, which help prevent free-radical damage. At night, a retinol treatment will help smooth lines: Retinol, a pure form of vitamin A, comes in two “gold” standards for generating skin cell turnover: (3) RETINOL SKIN TREATMENT, says Neutrogena. So why isn’t everyone using it? “I can be irritating and often leaves skin red and sensitive, so people go soft,” notes Goldberg. The solution? Don’t fret using retinoid cream, apply a pea-size amount every third night to start your skin acclimating. Then work up to using it every other night. Neutrogena recommends (4) MAX RESULTS HYALURONIC RETINOL, at $49.99, KIEHL.COM. This formula contains retinol, hyaluronic acid, and ceramides, a formula of retinol that’s just as potent, but less irritating. If you’re pregnant, she suggests tretinoin, instead, along with retinyl palmitate, vitamin C, and niacinamide.

CHEER UP YOUR GRANDDAD’S WINE
ELIZABETH GRAVES

Feature Breakdowns

After treating papules during the day with a light-and-still invisible—product that layers well under makeup, treat them again at night. Keri suggests dabbing (5) AKAO ANACARDIUM LIFTING LOTION, $17, morpheusaesthetics.com, onto visible blemishes and those you feel coming to the surface. Use a cotton swab to apply. The pale pink formula is preferred by many experts because it contains salicylic acid to reduce inflammation and reduce, as well as salicylic acid to exfoliate skin and deep-clean pores.

Pack Your Bags, Ladies!

Here's the beauty loot our editors are stuffing in their purses this season. Hmm: What will you carry?

Photographs by Daniel Lindh

IF YOU'RE FEELING GIRLY
Then carry: A striped (and sequined!) shoulder bag. And fill it with: Pastel makeup, little brushes (because you can always use more blush), and sheer polishes to clash or match your purse—we endorse both.
