GRAND TETON NATIONAL PARK

Without a doubt, our most memorable days were spent in the Grand Teton National Park. The mountains were stunning, the open range was sight to behold, and we learned the hard way to always watch out for crossing buffalo. Out there, you never know when you might stumble upon a herd or two.

Inside The Manor

Alder Manor was originally built by a copper tycoon to serve as his country estate on the Hudson River. Over the years, this elegant mansion has seen everything from inauguration balls to Roaring Twenties-era bashes, and it is still used today as a popular shoot location for some of your favorite TV shows and movies. Don't be surprised if a detail or room looks familiar—you very well may have seen it before.
