Sony recommends Windows Vista® Business

Don't take the whispers personally. They're talking about your VAIO®.

The Sony VAIO TZ with Intel® Centrino® Duo processor technology is hardly a computer for the modest professional. Because to open it up in public, is to invite scrutiny and inevitably a degree of envy. You'll find yourself explaining that despite its slim profile and mere 2.7 lbs,* the Sony VAIO notebook offers an amazing array of features and power. So much for anonymity. Learn more at sony.com/VAIO.

It hurts to know she wants to get her hands on your VAIO®, not you.

With its beautifully designed carbon fiber body and ergonomic cooled keyboard, the Sony VAIO TZ may be the world's first professional notebook that's as pleasing to the touch as to the eye. And with integrated wireless wide area network (WAN) technology** that lets you connect virtually anywhere the Sprint® Mobile Broadband network is available, your notebook becomes all the more desirable. Which may become a liability should you want to bring an obnoxious stranger's attention back around to you.

Visit sony.com/sprint for details on how to receive a complimentary month of Sprint Mobile Broadband service when you activate your account.**
