Behind the Velvet Rope

Strobe lights and synth-pop sounds bounce off the walls as the 21st-century club scene makes their way to the club to live and be seen - their androgynous looks reflecting their breezy beats, and recent tracks address the carefree side of a party who's always at the center of the dance floor - worn-in and paint-splattered as they move to the music.

LEVI'S MIDDLE FIT JEAN

Youth in Revolt

Emerging from deep in the suburbs, grunge brings introspective emotions to the masses. A genre full of searing, hard lyrics and melancholy vocals and melancholy chords. These together make turn up shirts and jeans worn down to shreds, minor those creating and rebelling against the establishment.

In the Studio

Behind hip-hop's catchy digital beats and powerful lyrics are vocalists, songwriters and producers who gather for late-night sessions to dream up the tracks that will dominate pop culture. They don't come to impress—they come to collaborate and create. Their laid-back, inherently cool style mimics their music, and the dimly lit, intimate ambience of the studio.

Wheels Up

For all the world's biggest acts, it's about remaining relevant and redefining—constantly evolving their personal brand.

They draw from endless inspirations, far and wide, old and new, to create a style all their own. An ever-changing, always-on, jet-setting lifestyle demands of busy pros—the world is their runway.

ICONIC DENIM • THEN & NOW

Socially charged, grass-rootsed artists dressed up on a quad with lyrics to change the world. Three-decade jeans getting a fresh re-order pairing screams and searing vibrations of an electric guitar. Angst-infused, torn up grunge oozing into suburban, from underneath a garage door. Music genres are products of the environment — each one a result of the unique setting in which it was created.

For 50 years, Levi's and Rolling Stone have been at the center of it all. Join us as we celebrate the timeless intersection of music and style.

Shop the collection at Levi.com and at select Levi's stores.

Free Love on the Quad

Whether on a college campus or in a city park, the quad has been — and always will be — the breeding ground for denim by both its youth and its adults. Students, protesters, musicians gather in their denim-washed, fringed jackets and grass-stained jeans to compose rebellious lyrics, all to acoustic chords with hopes of sparking a movement and a better tomorrow.

Chasing Sunrise

Barefoot, flat sideways, and closed, shepherds the underground scene thrumps with the freedom of losing yourself in the music. Bats bleed from boxing gloves, pulsating energy onto the sweaty rock pit where a rule-breaking, defiant scene was born. At the center of it all are the punk rockers — shredded jeans, bleached hair, bare skin and a dangerous, unapologetic attitude.
