MIRANDA KERR
Makeup artist Rose-Marie Swift and hairstylist David Keough create a punk-meets-pretty look

EYES
"I did a stronger brow," says makeup artist Swift, who then used a creamy brown shadow on the lids. "I wanted to make a statement without going overboard."

SKIN
After Swift applied foundation, she added a creamy luminizer to Kerr's cheekbones "to keep her youthful glow."

HAIR
Hairstylist Keough created a "classy but edgy" look by combining bouncy waves on one side of her head with two small braids on the other.

LIPS
"To add extra drama, we did a dark cherry lip," says Swift.

Where Luxe Studios in Sydney.

Food for thought We called on four of Australia's leading hair maestros—Keough, Barney Martin, Brad Ngata and Renya Xydis—to recreate their signature looks, with Finch and actress Jessica Tovey as models. "This was the first time I worked with Rachael and what a delight she is," says Keough. "She said she felt very sexy and womanly and had a little bit of a JLo look about her in front of the camera—divine!" Between shots, a "famished" Finch snacked on salad and sandwiches while keeping mum about a big secret. A few days later, the radiant mum-to-be announced that she and her husband, professional dancer Michael Mizner, are expecting a baby in September.

DAVID KEOUGH

Hollywood volume

"Making women look sexy" is one of Keough's hair mantras. In his three decades in the business, he has created cutting-edge styles for glossy magazines worldwide, as well as working with fashion brands such as BCBGMaxAzria and Tigerlily. He's been a creative consultant for John Frieda for 10 years, and his A-list clientele includes the likes of Elle Macpherson and Toni Collette.

GET THE LOOK

"You have to start adding volume to the hair from the moment you wash it," says Keough of creating this luxe look. He suggests using a volumising shampoo and conditioner to start, followed by a volumising spray "spritzed into towel-dried hair from mid-lengths to the ends". Try John Frieda Luxurious Volume Fine to Full Blow-Out Spray ($17, 1800 468 318). A root lifter, such as John Frieda Luxurious Volume Root Booster Blow Dry Lotion ($16, 1800 468 318), will also give more body to the hair, says Keough, "especially if your hair is on the finer side". Using a large, round brush, blow-dry the hair fully then, with a 3.5cm curling iron, curl the hair in 7.5cm sections, "pinning each section with clips until the hair has cooled". Take the clips out and use a paddle brush to loosen up the curls. Finish with a light mist of hairspray to set the look.
