Beauty

BACK TO BLACK

If you can't be bothered to change out of your jeans to go to that last-minute party, codice di eyeliner twinned with a cool leather top will take your dante from shabby to chic. HOW TO Arm yourself with Dior's game-changing Diorshow Pro Liner, Eco™. It glides on as smoothly as a liquid, but smudges easily to add that rebellious edge, before setting to stay put for a good 12 hours," says Deveney. Or if it's serious staying power you're after, opt for Boots Seventeen Tattoo Me. It's a semi-permanent liner that's beyond brilliant - you get a whole three days' wear from it. We're not joking. Perfect for party monsters, festival-goers and the abominably lazy. ▶

CHICK FLICK

Large eyes are a sign of youth (think bunnies and puppies), but we're not all blessed with Anne Hathaway-like peepers. The solution? Make yours look larger by flicking it.

HOW TO Opt for a gel liner, such as Smashbox Jet Set Waterproof Eyeliner Gel, £17. The soft-finish texture will make the line a little blurred, whereas a neat liquid line looks less natural. "Smooze the liner in a bit thicker towards the outer corner, and flick up slightly at the end," says Deveney. Apply with a precision eyeliner brush (try Jane Redale Detail Brush, £19.95), then curl your lashes and add a coat of mascara. "Straight lashes close off the eyes, drawing attention away from your pupils," says Deveney. ▶

Smoozi-stuffed bra, Jean-Paul Gaultier shorts, Frame Denim tattoo, as before

TO THE POINT

If you're about to fly out of the door and notice you're looking a little, well, formless, reach for the liquid eyeliner. Not only will it give your appearance an instant boost (liquid eyeliner always looks badass), but a neat tick applied at the outer corners can lift your eyes and elongate their shape - hello, instant face lift. HOW TO Deveney promises that liquid eyeliner is easy to master. "You need to choose a product with a firm nib, like a felt tip, rather than a brush," she explains. Starting at the inner corner of the eyes, draw three-quarters of the way along each lash line. Then, looking in the mirror, draw a dot where you want the flick to finish on the side of each eye - make sure they're level - and join up the lines with the dots. Easy-right? Try Fix Factor Masterpiece High Precision Eyeliner, £299. It's super-pigmented and lasts up to 12 hours.
