Instead of sticking to tried-and-true rock conventions, London-based Django Django draws on their own past and experiences for inspiration for both their lyrics and their unique tone. The result is a BEAUTIFULLY SHIFTING, EVER-CHANGING audio barrage of disparate sounds and live instrumentation that all sound amazing together. This is most evident through a diverse use of harmonies, rhythms and textures. Each track is an innovation: an invitation to the listener to change not only how they view music, but the very nature of the world around them. Django Django makes it clear that their map's borders are carefully measured and meticulously traveled.

When Dillon Francis looks in the mirror, he might imagine himself
RIDING BEATS AND BASSLINES
straight into the sounds of tomorrow. An innovator on the moombahton scene, Francis has already crafted underground electronic dance sensations like 'Westside' and 'Masta Blasta'. But because his vision of what dance music can be is as ever-changing as he is, the only guarantee the future holds is that he'll be rocking dance floors for years to come.
