OPPOSITE: For a young girl's bedroom, a bright, striped color scheme was selected. City Joinery's wood bed and George Nelson's chest of drawers are painted in bold colors. The "Diana" side tables are by Konstantin Grcic, and the green table lamp is Stilnovo. The Fedora Design rug pattern incorporates horseback-riding motifs, a favorite activity of the girl. ABOVE: We created a suite of spaces for a boy's bedroom, which includes a cozy sleeping nook upholstered in striped fabrics. Hanging in the hallway is a ceramic pendant light by Roger Capron. The "Sistemi" wardrobe is from Cappellini.

LEFT: I love this slate lazy Susan built into the oak dining table by Hervé Van der Straeten. He also designed the bronze ceiling light. The mahogany dining chairs are by Mogens Lassen, and the rug is by Fedora Design. ABOVE: 'Bamboo' sconces by Kim Moltzer are attached to my signature bookshelf, which was made by City Joinery.
