A flat-lay photograph of various Sephora products arranged on a white background. The products include: three tubes of 'V FOR VOLUME' mascara (one purple, one light blue, one dark blue), a package of 'SEPHORA Coconut water cleansing wipes' with a coconut pattern, three tubes of 'L'AVANCE À L'AVANCE' lipstick in different shades of red and pink, a tube of 'L'AVANCE À L'AVANCE' mascara, a tube of 'L'AVANCE À L'AVANCE' eye cream, and a can of 'SEPHORA' perfume. Several small, colorful paper umbrellas (pink, yellow, and green) are scattered around the products, adding a decorative touch.

BRING ON THE GOOD VIBES

You may have heard of palo santo—but what exactly is it? The name translates to “holy wood,” and it comes from a tree that grows in South America. Oh, and despite the current buzz, palo santo has been around for centuries. Much like sage, it’s burned in smudging ceremonies to cleanse a person’s energy field and banish negativity. Now companies are using the scent (think a mix of wood, citrus, and mint) in sprays, lotions, candles, and more. Of course, you can still use the sticks the classic way: Let one smolder in a heatproof dish as you enjoy its pleasant fragrance.
