Beauty

GLOW, GIRL

Sun-kissed skin and that lit-from-within radiance – supermodel MARLOES HORST redefines L.A.'s natural, low-key look

THE BODY

All set to be the next big supermodel, Maybelline New York's Marloes Horst has a body – and an Instagram account – to rival Gisele, not to mention the Hollywood boyfriend and a Victoria's Secret contract.

Her look of choice? "I want to look like those surf chicks in Santa Monica," she says. "The key, I think, is having a strong, fit body – and letting their vibrant personalities shine through."

For toned, smooth skin all over, make-up artist Sam Adlington recommends targeting the lymphatic system: "Dry body-bruising, exfoliation and hydrating oils can smooth skin and flush away excess fluid, which causes puffiness and cellulite," she says. Give skin a post-winter boost with L'Oréal Sublime Sensitive Endurance Tan Prep, $7.99. Clarins Body Lift Cellulite Cream, $37, or Elemis Skin Nourishing Body Cream, $29. The final touch is L.A.'s best-kept secret, Pryn Pynashun Skin Tight Body Lotion, $18, for a shimmering sheen – Californian sun in a bottle. ▶
